

Firefighter Exposure at the Start of Suppression

The height of the bars represent the total energy released at the start of suppression.
The horizontal axis compares crew size and ascent mode.

